SHAPE UP

Georgia Perry

Lamington Drive is pleased to present Shape Up, the debut solo exhibition of Melbourne-based graphic artist, Georgia Perry.

Conveyed through large format posters, cutout shapes and layered wooden 'shields', Shape Up sees Perry experimenting with colour, scale and form.

Embedded with a sense of movement and energy, the works all began life as studies, in simple cut black paper – with shapes being added or removed to reach their final compositions.

Perry prefers to work this way – without an end point in mind – the images slowly revealing themselves like puzzles.

Through a fearless use of colour and layered, abstract forms, she invites the viewer to become immersed in her world – a bold, bright place where the odd and imperfect are embraced.

About the Artist

Georgia Perry is a graphic artist based in Melbourne, Australia. Working with clients and commissions the world over, she combines illustration, graphic design and fine art to create beautiful and memorable imagery. Her work is characterised by its simplicity and unfaltering use of colour and simple shapes.
